

The Samuel Proctor Oral History Program and Gainesville Community Redevelopment Agency
Present

Public Screening of "Gator Tales"

"Gator Tales" is an award-winning play scripted and directed by UF Arts Professor Kevin Marshall using archived narratives of first generation African American students at the University of Florida. The performance brings to life the voices of those African Americans in Gainesville who struggled for civil rights and educational equality for all.

This event is FREE and OPEN to the PUBLIC. Please arrive early for parking and free DVDs.

For more information contact:

Tamarra Jenkins
Samuel Proctor Oral History Program
(352) 392-7168
tamarraj@ufl.edu

Nigel Hamm
Gainesville Community Redevelopment Agency
(352) 393-8202
HammN1@cityofgainesville.org

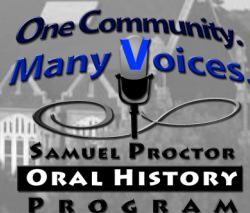

Friday, February 17
6:00pm—9:00pm

6:00 pm Live Guest Performances

7:00 pm "Gator Tales" Screening

BO DIDDLEY PLAZA
GAINESVILLE FLORIDA

UF UNIVERSITY of
FLORIDA
The Foundation for The Gator Nation

Gainesville
Community
Redevelopment
Agency

CITY OF GAINESVILLE
every path starts with action
FLORIDA